Whether it's the backstabbing, power struggles, dealing with the queen bee, or the “untouchable” employee, or even just navigating through change, drama manifests itself in many ways especially in high emotional environments such as healthcare facilities, long term care operations and nursing homes. You KNOW it goes on in your practice – gossip, poor coordination of the team, disruptive or disruptive employee behavior – and you KNOW it is a huge distraction away from good patient care, efficiencies and business objectives. In this highly participative program, attendees have opportunities to ask questions, share wisdom and get the tools needed to identify and workplace drama.

Objectives of Stop Workplace Drama

- Develop an actionable new language to motivate employees.
- Identify the three common components always present in drama.
- Discover the three “drama roles” and how to get to the root problem.
- Learn a practical communication method to promote teamwork and collaboration.
- Apply “Tools for Transformation” to promote positive change from within.
- Learn from your peers
- Ask questions and get resources, as well as immediate and useable answers

ABOUT THE SPEAKER: Marlene Chism is the founder of Stop Your Drama Methodology an 8-part process to help business owners, and solopreneurs reinvent their lives and business. Marlene combines universal principles with sound business practices to bridge the inner and outer game of success. Marlene is the author of "Success is a Given: Reading the Signs While Reinventing Your Life." Marlene knows firsthand what it means to reinvent. For over 20 years, Marlene worked on the lines of the factory at Kraft foods before quitting her 20-year blue collar job to build a business as a consultant, trainer, and professional speaker.

TARGET AUDIENCE: Administrators, Directors of Nursing, CEOs, Nurses, Social Workers, and any key staff involved in supervising employees
